

I know the price of success: dedication, hard work, and an unremitting devotion to the things you want to see happen.

Frank Lloyd Wright

When you look at other people's success, it can seem like it just comes so easy for them. They just show up and instantly they are successful.

This is what we see from the outside looking at their lives. What we don't often see is all the dedication, hard work and years of perseverance that it took to have it look like an instant success.

Ask yourself, are you working as hard as you can toward your goals? Are you committed to making it happen? What else can you do to up your game?

Every day is an opportunity to work toward your goals and dreams.

Put your hand on your heart and say:
I am dedicated to my success.
